Benefits

Health First Health Plans' High Value Network Plans offer the same comprehensive benefits at a lower monthly premium. There are no additional steps to go through such as referrals or extra prior authorization requirements.

Note: For 2021, High Value Network Plans are only being offered by Health First Health Plans. AdventHealth Advantage Plans is offering Preferred Value Rx Plans only, which include the Preferred Value Network for pharmacy benefits, but do not have a High Value Network medical cost share benefit.

Members enrolled in a High Value Network Plan can access our entire network of providers and healthcare facilities but will pay a lower cost share when they choose to see a provider or facility within the Health First Health Plans' High Value Network.

High Value Plan members also have access to lower prescription drug copays and coinsurances when their prescriptions are filled at pharmacies in the Preferred Value Network.

How Do I Locate High Value Network Providers?

You can find HVN providers online.

1. Start here: myHFHP.org
2. Click on Find a Doctor
3. Select High Value Network from the Network dropdown

What is the Difference Between HVN and PVN?

Medical: Health First Health Plans' High Value Network (HVN) is composed of Health First hospitals and providers that offer reduced copays and coinsurances to members enrolled in a High Value Network plan.

Pharmacy: The Preferred Value Network (PVN) is a network of pharmacies that offers reduced prescription drug copays or coinsurances to HNV member so they can save money on prescriptions.

All Health First Health Plans' High Value Network Plans have access to reduced rates when using the Preferred Value Network for prescriptions and the High Value Network for medical benefits.
